

Write My MP

Let's work together and challenge the online harms that are threatening our kids! One practical step you can take is writing a short letter to your MP telling them that you're concerned about online harms, such as AI Deepfakes and that you want to see laws that help protect our children and youth. To help you get started, we have included a pre-written letter below that you can simply copy/paste or add your own thoughts to. Search for your MP and find their contact information here: <https://www.ourcommons.ca/members/en>

Dear [your MP's name],

I am writing to express my concern about the dangerous online harms that are threatening Canadian children.

I am very concerned about how Image Based Sexual Abuse is harming Canadian children and youth, including through the use of AI Deepfakes and so-called "nudifying" apps. Many teen girls are being exploited through the use of this technology — sometimes even by their male classmates.

Many teens and youth—mostly boys—are being targeted in "sextortion" schemes on popular social media apps. Too many children have taken their own life as a result of this exploitation.

Canada must take these online harms seriously and develop real solutions in order to protect our kids online.

Will you take action by supporting Bill S-209 so that powerful Big Tech companies will be held accountable when their platforms and apps are used to exploit and harm Canadian children online?

Please tell me what you will do to protect children from these very real harms and hold perpetrators accountable.

Our kids and youth deserve good robust legislation that will protect them!

Sincerely, [Your name]
